

Award purpose

The purpose of the award is to support the participation of Te Kura Umanga | UC Business School students in learning abroad experiences by assisting with the costs associated with these.

Eligible learning abroad experiences

The award may be attached to any learning abroad experience that is offered or promoted by Te Kura Umanga | UC Business School. Whether an experience is eligible will be determined by the UC Business School Internationalisation Director when it is decided to offer or promote the experience, taking into account the extent to which the experience supports the goals of the school's internationalisation strategy.

Number on offer

The number of awards on offer in any given year will be determined by the UC Business School Internationalisation Director. This will vary depending on the budget available in that year, and the number and type of experiences that it is decided to attach the award to.

4. The award is only valid and applicable for the experience and year that it is offered and cannot be carried over to other experiences years. If a student does not attend the experience in the year for which it is offered, then the award is not payable to them
5. The award is conditional on students being accepted to the experience by UC and the partner institution, and upon their fulfilling all conditions for participation set by both UC and the partner institution.
6. The award is conditional upon students enrolling in any associated courses at UC if required, including the payment of tuition fees and any other costs payable to UC for participation in the experience. Students must also complete any registration requirements and pay any fees with the partner institution (if applicable).
7. The award is conditional upon students participating in and completing the requirements of the UC Business School CQ Certificate.
8. Students are eligible to receive the award only once during their studies at UC, irrespective of the number of degrees or learning abroad experiences they undertake. They are not eligible to receive the award if they have received it previously. Students warrant to UC that by accepting the award, they have not previously received, or become entitled to the award.
9. To receive the award students must permit the announcement and publication of their acceptance of the award (including their name), and agree to make themselves reasonably available for promotional activities if required, as negotiated with the UC Business School Internationalisation Team, including presenting a brief written report on the experience upon their return that may be used for promotional purposes.
10. By signing and returning the acceptance form, students confirm their intent to participate in the experience and that they accept the conditions of the award. Students must inform the UC Business School Internationalisation Team immediately if, at any point, they meet any of these conditions, or if they withdraw from the experience. Students who at any point (including during the experience) withdraw from the experience, have their ability to participate withdrawn, or who, at any point, do not meet any of the conditions of the award, will forfeit the award, and if it has already been paid, will be required to repay it to UC in full, upon demand.
11. If a student can no longer participate in the experience because it has been changed or cancelled at any stage after the award has been paid, they may be expected to repay it to UC in full on demand, less any unrecoverable reasonable costs of participation not covered by insurance.
